Pilot training

Psychological Safety

The Certified Psychological Safety training course is a comprehensive program that empowers you with the knowledge and skills needed to cultivate environments of trust, open communication, and collaboration within your organization.

What can you expect?

- Get to know each other's personalities, passions, and ambitions better (and understand them).
- Share what lessons have been learned from past mistakes.
- Understand the concept of Psychological Safety through various assignments and use cases.
- Get practical tips on how participants can themselves contribute to an open learning climate.
- Learn how to give and receive feedback in a constructive way.
- How to call each other out on professionalism and craftsmanship.
- Apply alternative dynamic work methods (playfulness).
- Identify and explore stress factors and sources of uncertainty
- Tackle limiting beliefs.
- Test knowledge about psychological safety through an assessment.
- Do a scan to determine the level of psychological safety.
- Give feedback on the training pilot.

- English
- One day group training
- Assessment to test individual knowledge
- Safety scan (for teams)
- One follow-up moment to discuss next steps
- Feedback questionnaire

Why High-Performance Teams Matter

The stakes are high

Accelerated Innovation and Problem-Solving:

High-performing teams drive innovation, tackle complex challenges with efficiency, and cultivate a culture of continuous improvement. Their collective skills and seamless collaboration empower organizations to navigate challenges with agility, ensuring sustained adaptability and success.

Enhanced Employee Engagement and Satisfaction:

High-performing teams foster a motivating, valued, and engaged environment, elevating morale and job satisfaction. This positive culture attracts and retains top talent, ensuring ongoing success and growth for the organization.

Consistent and Exemplary Results:

Consistently delivering exceptional results, high-performing teams achieve excellence through shared goals, autonomy, and effective collaboration. Their reliability builds stakeholder trust, establishing a reputation for industry excellence.

People Trained	Trainers	Customer Satisfaction	Companies Served
1.3 mln+	120+	9.2/10	1,000+